Haven Hospice Attic hosts Fifth Annual Antique Roadshow and Donation Round-Up *Event set for Saturday, July 16

(GAINESVILLE, Fla.)—Maybe you're hoping to net some extra cash from your vintage collections or maybe you just want to know what your treasured heirlooms are worth. Let antiques expert John Sikorski, host of the radio show Sikorski's Attic, evaluate them for you at the Fifth Annual Haven Hospice Attic Antique Roadshow and Donation Round-Up, from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. on Saturday, July 16, at the Haven Hospice Attic, 300 NW 8th Ave. in Gainesville.

Haven Hospice is encouraging all types of donations to be dropped off prior to the event. "If you have antiques and collectibles in your home and you're not sure what to do with them, bring them to the Attic where they could help someone in need," said Michael Ingram, manager of retail operations at the Attic.

Admission to the event is free. The cost of an evaluation is just $10 per item, with a one-item per ticket limit. Evaluation tickets for a reserved time slot are required and will go on sale July 11 at the Haven Hospice Attic in Gainesville. Appointments are limited.

Participants who have sets for evaluation are asked to bring only one piece as a sample. Coins, firearms, stamps or textiles cannot be evaluated. Come early to the event and be the first to shop in the Attic's Antique Showcase.

The Haven Hospice Attic Resale Store staff appreciates the generous donors who entrust their treasures to the store for resale. Like the sales at the store, all Attic Antique Roadshow and Donation Round-Up proceeds will support Haven Hospice's unfunded patient care, bereavement and community outreach programs. For more information about the event, please call 352.378.7484.
